

Objectives

DTRIP (Defensive Total Return Investment Portfolio) is an individual discretionary investment portfolio. The strategy aims to achieve defensive total return outcomes over the medium to long term through diversified exposure across asset classes. The term defensive refers to the portfolio’s structural diversification and active risk management approach

Economic Framework

Economies move through repeated cycles that can be understood in terms of two key dimensions: growth and inflation. When combined, these dimensions yield five quintants :

- Rising growth with stable inflation (equities)
- Falling growth with rising inflation and central bank tightening (cash & TIPS)
- Economy in recession, inflation and rates fall (bonds)
- Economy recovers, inflation and rates fall (bonds & equities)
- Economy approaches capacity, inflation rises (prec.metals, commodities)

Investment Strategy:

The Portfolio is constructed with a focus on income generation and managing downside risk over the medium to long term, while maintaining broad diversification to reduce reliance on any single asset.

Invest across multiple asset classes via liquid securities and ETFs, with exposure to any single unrated or sub-investment-grade bond or income-bearing security capped at 10%.

Meltemi has discretion within these predefined strategic allocation ranges :

- Equities 25% - 35%
- Bonds 30% - 40%
- Short term investments 5% - 15%
- Commodities and other alternative investments. 20% - 30%
